The property is a classic design Sofia model with a very large lounge with a feature fireplace, a separate round dining area in the turret space. There is a large walk through kitchen and excellent potential to improve the design if required.

There are 3 double bedrooms on the main floor with ensuite to master bedroom and a second family size bathroom.

Glazed doors from the lounge open onto a huge curved classic arched terrace over looking the private pool and gardens, with extended views to the mountains.

A feature curved staircase from the lounge leads up to a first floor turret double bedroom and a glazed door opening onto a roof terrace directly above the ground floor terrace. The views are amazing.

Once again potential is available for an ensuite to this turret room within the roof space of the main villa.

With the available elevation to this villa there is a large open space beneath the car port that could be used for a number of options.
