Fabulous modern ground-floor apartment, only one year old, located 150 meters from the Sardinero Promenade, next to the access road to the sea, in Torre de la Horadada. This single-story house combines modern design, efficiency, and a practical and comfortable lifestyle year-round. The property is in excellent condition and ready to move into. The layout is functional and well-utilized. You enter directly through the reinforced security door into the living room, which features a cozy electric fireplace, perfect for winter. The living room has access to the garage, which, with its motorized door, can accommodate one vehicle. This space is climate-controlled, includes a wardrobe, and has ventilation for various uses should you wish to forgo a parking space, as this street, despite being by the sea, offers easy parking throughout the year. The living room has direct access to the separate kitchen with a dining table and island, ideal for food preparation or as a more informal high table for four people. The kitchen connects to two bedrooms with lined and fitted wardrobes, all equipped with LED lighting, soft-close mechanisms, and other decorative details. The bathroom, featuring a large walk-in shower and vanity unit, is located next to the kitchen and the master bedroom. The outdoor areas add significant value. The 22-square-meter west-facing patio with a barbecue area shares an enclosed space, perfect for enjoying lovely gatherings and after-dinner conversations in winter, as well as al fresco dining in summer. The patio also includes an open area with a shower, ideal for use after a day at the beach, and storage space under the stairs leading to the solarium, which also houses a laundry area and water heater. In summer, you can also enjoy the 60-square-meter solarium, complete with a pergola, perfect for al fresco dining and relaxing with family and friends as a chill-out zone. The house is also equipped to ensure year-round comfort, with central air-conditioning and heating, underfloor heating throughout, an aerothermal system, and fans, offering energy efficiency and comfort in any season. This house allows for the construction of a second-floor, if desired, for a separate living space or an extension of the existing one. It comes fully-furnished and ready to move in and enjoy. An unbeatable location, very near to the sea and all amenities. If you are looking for a modern, energy-efficient home ready to enjoy from day one, contact us to schedule a visit. We would be delighted to show it to you in person.
